

Dr. Dana Buchbut

Dr. Dana Buchbut is the Founder and CEO of Fortress. Fortress is building the next generation medical billing fraud and abuse detection platform for the healthcare industry. She received her MBA from Sloan School of Business at MIT. Prior to Sloan Dr. Buchbut earned an M.D. from Tel-Aviv University and practiced Dermatology and Venereology (STDs) in Israel, at the two biggest hospitals, the Ministry of Health and Physicians for Human Rights (PHR).

As part of her role at the Ministry of Health and Physicians for Human Rights, she led mobile clinics designed to provide free medical services to sex workers and Palestinians, respectively. In addition, she held the position of Lieutenant at the Israel Defense Forces (IDF). Throughout her experiences in the healthcare industry and the military, she gained strong clinical, leadership and problem solving skills that she has applied in healthcare entrepreneurship.